

OAXACA

The Legendary Oaxacan Gold

Sierra Madre of Oaxaca.

AND The state of Oaxaca has been one line, there are other phenotypes It has a very famous personality in terms of late ripening in November. Others can already be to its varieties since the 70s. In general, these lines are later than those of the northern states and cultivated in the mountains. It is said that there are still good varieties in the Sierra and many elderly Mexicans who continue to keep their traditional seeds and grow little treasures to smoke at home.

Map of the state of Oaxaca.

It is a very fruity line, with citrus aromas reminiscent of lime, even pineapple or grapefruit, acidic and tasty aromas, the effects are always very stimulating and euphoric. Pale green leaves, thin and well serrated.

in keeping with the archetype of classic Mexican varieties. Likewise, it is a line that crosses very well due to its stupendous combinatory ability. It is quite dominant in terms of structure and speed in the hybrids, but it brings fantastic traits to them.

Oaxaca has also been a key variety for several of our hybrids:

PURPLE MEXICAN: PCK x Oaxaca 79, a variety that shows purple colors inherited from Chitral and the stimulating effect of Oaxaca, distributed as a limited edition in 2011 and winner of the 2013 Argentine CCCC Cup.

Oaxaca 79 is a very special line, it comes from 1979 seeds and was preserved in Canada. They worked with several seeds and some cuttings, this clearly selected for its speed and personality. Although in the one

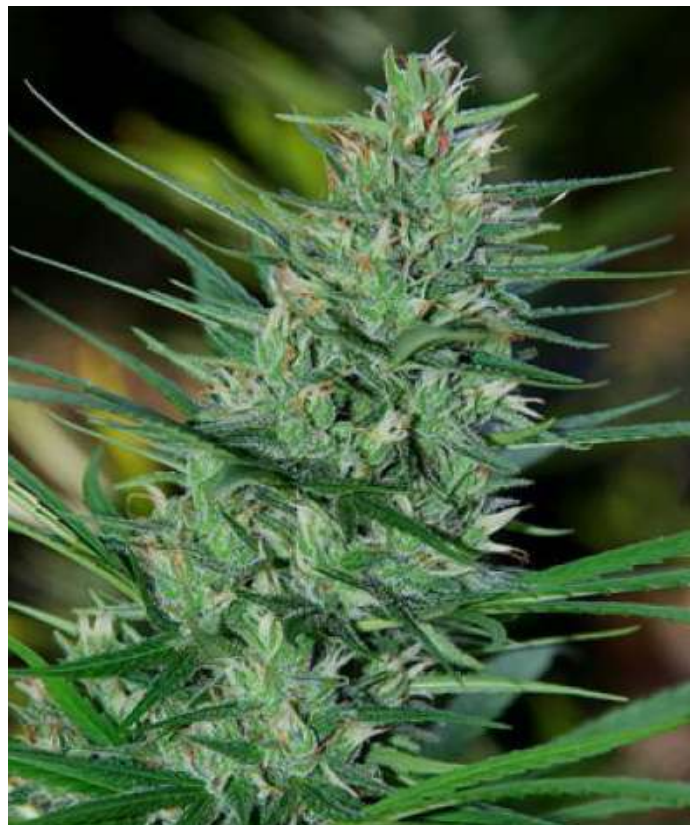

Purple Mexican, image courtesy of Bleuweiss.

RED SNAKE: Hybrid between Oaxaca79 and a Colombian "Red Point" male from Tolima, worked for several generations. a tribute to the first American varieties of the old school, with a stimulating and pleasant effect with a warm touch reminiscent of classic Colombians. With fruity aromas and some candy or chewing gum plants and blooms of 12-14 weeks.

MEXtIza: result of crossing an Oaxaca79 with our Nepalese Jam (Nepal x Jamaica BM). The Mexican dominates a lot in the result although the combination is exquisite and much more powerful. Plants with aromas of lime, citrus, honeyed and above all for their euphoric effect without heaviness stand out. furthermore, it matures in only 8-9 weeks.

©CBG 2015.